Mental Health Research UK - Christmas Card

Dear Supporter

This is just a brief note from me, mainly to remind you that our MHRUK Christmas Cards are now available (please order within the next week). These have been painted by talented artist Amanda Besterman, who was a great friend of one of our founding Trustees John Grace QC. You can order them, and by doing so donate to us, web page. I should say that 100% of what you pay will go towards funding research into mental health.

I am also attaching our e-Christmas Card to this email. Please feel free to use it to send to family and friends – if you would like to donate in lieu of the postage saved that would help us greatly, but in any case, using these will help spread the word.

Finally, in view of the current cost of living crisis, we have increased the stipend paid to our scholars. This ensures that they retain parity with PhD students funded by UK Research and Innovation, which is the public body of the UK Government that directs research and innovation funding in the UK.

These are clearly difficult times for many of us, and we are so grateful for your continuing support.

Best wishes

Mike Owen
Chair of Trustees

Happy Christmas
