

Victoria Morris's Great North Run and more

Mental Health Research UK have kindly provided me with a place to run in the 2021 Great North Run.

Since no-one who knows me is likely to sponsor me for running a mere half marathon, I have decided to increase the challenge by running home afterwards. After completing the Great North Run on 12th September, I plan to run an additional marathon a day until I get home, hopefully later in the same week.

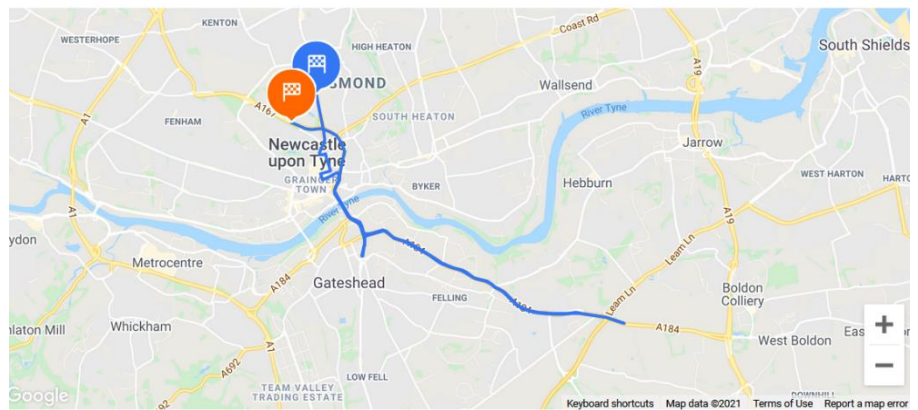

To add to the challenge, the clothing (spare socks!), food etc. that I will have access to will be limited to what I can carry during the Great North Run or acquire along the way.

The Great North Run was an extremely enjoyable event; I can definitely recommend it to runners and walkers of all speeds and abilities, so if anyone is thinking of running it for MHRUK in the future they should definitely do so.
